Action 8: Fund and facilitate faster adaptation projects.

Action 7: Refine and accelerate regulatory approvals INFORM

Action 3: Broaden public understanding of climate change science and impacts.

Action 4: Base plans and projects on the best science, data, and knowledge.

Action 5: Align local and regional plans into a unified adaptation approach.

PLANS

RSAP is an implementing project of Bay Adapt

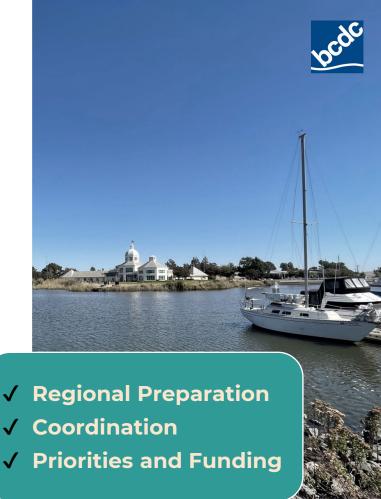

- Task 1.1: Create a long-term regional vision rooted in communities, bay habitats, and the economy
- Task 5.1: Provide incentives for robust, coordinated local adaptation plans.
- Task 8.1: Incentivize projects that meet regional guidelines
- Task 9.1: Measure regional progress using metrics and share results.

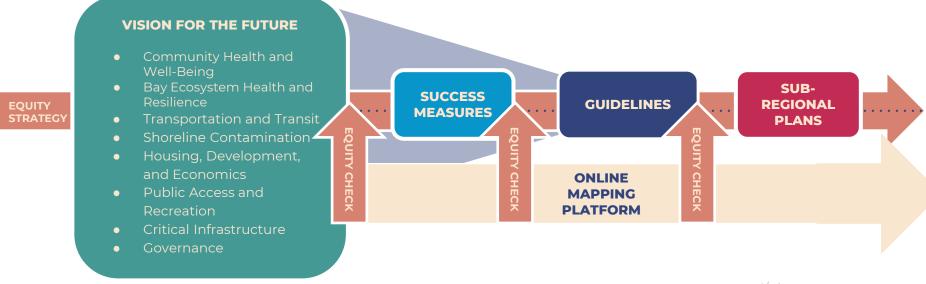

New legislation to support sea level rise adaptation (SB 272)

- Passed into State law on Oct 7, 2023
- Requires local jurisdictions to develop subregional resiliency plans and for BCDC to develop guidelines for which plans must follow
- Requires BCDC to review and approve or deny plans - based on consistency with guidelines
- Prioritizes State funding for plan creation and projects in approved plans

WHAT'S YOUR VISION FOR THE FUTURE OF THE SHORELINE?

170+ responses on survey so far

A comprehensive approach that addresses the problem on all levels. Environmental, climate, economic, biodiversity, quality of life.

-Anonymous

Resilient shorelines that are multibeneficial for tidal habitats, flood protection, water quality supply and quality. No more development along the shorelines and in fact, we should seriously consider appropriate retreat for infrastructure, etc. where feasible.

--Anonymous, San Francisco

Living in harmony with our evolving landscape.

-Jenny, Berkeley

That sea level rise and climate change offers an opportunity to rethink our current systems and social structures, reorganizing the world to foster human relationships to one another and to the natural world.

-Anonymous, Emeryville

Affordable alternative housing for those affected by SLR, especially the most vulnerable and economically struggling.

- Lynn, Alameda

Government agencies working together to ensure the entire Bay Area is working to the same set of bold objectives, fair and equitable principles and aggressive timeframes to stay out ahead of this challenge.

-Paul, Alameda

Vulnerable low-income and BIPOC communities are protected from flooding and have access to Bayshore recreation.

Anonymous, Santa Rosa

We have adapted to rising water and learned to shape our communities to defend where we can, and welcome the water in, where we can't.
